CBS FUNDAY!

Funday was a smashing success, thanks to the generosity and participation of our school community. The day was jam-packed with games and activities of all sorts from Paintless Paintball and Archery to Bouncy Castle and merry-go-round - there was something for everyone. Food vendors made certain that the crowds had plenty of snacks and drinks. To our vendors, we thank you for your on-going support for our school. To our parents, staff and students, we could not have done it without you. Finally, to the organizers of this event, you have outdone yourself once again. Kudos to all!!

Writing Matters

Knowing what to write and how to write it are the two aspects of writing. Some students have great ideas but struggle with sentence structure, grammar, and spelling (mechanics of writing) while other students have no trouble with the mechanics of writing but struggle with creative thought. While the mechanics of writing are certainly important, a writer must be able to hook or interest the reader by having something to say that is worth reading.

One way to address these writing concerns is to use a mentor text. Reading and studying the writing of a published author enables students to see how an expert creates character and plot or uses graphics to help explain difficult concepts. Writing in the same style as a mentor writer, often reduces the stress that some students feel when asked to write. Also students are able to take a few steps in the shoes of an author and experience greater success. By first writing like someone else, they are able to find their own writing voice.

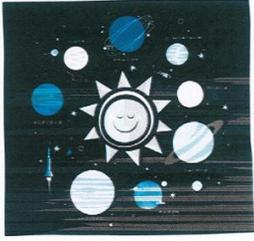

At CBS we are using mentor texts or examples of writing to show students what good writing looks like and sounds like. We encourage them to ‘copy’ a style or ‘borrow’ words to help jump start their ideas. To help at home, read to and with your child and talk about how the author was able to draw you into the text; or, how his choice of graphics enabled you to understand the concept. By studying, analyzing, and talking about what good writers do, and what good writing looks and sounds like, we can equip our students with the tools they need to master the ‘what’ and the ‘how’ of writing.

PAST EVENTS - PIZZA DAY!

On November 29th, 2017, CBS had its first Pizza Day. Parents received notice of this event through social media. Notes were also sent home with students. Student Council members collected pre orders and delivered the pizzas to the classroom. Kudos to the Student Council for operationalizing this event. If you missed out on a slice of the pie, be sure to keep your eyes peeled for our next pizza lunch.

Solar system

Author: Saif

Have you ever looked at the stars at night and wondered about whats up there? Space is a big place with alot to explore. At the center of our solar system is the sun. Around the sun orbits eight planets, as well as stars, bits of dust, comets and meteoroids. We live in a spiral galaxy known as the Milky way. The sun is huge. It makes up 99 percent of the matter in solar system.

Grade 2A

There was a hippo who lived in the watering hole. Rico the pino had fun of hippo's nose. Hippo felt hurt. First, Henrietta decided to ask her friend. Next, she asked lion. The lion said you need a mane now that will make you beautiful. Then she asked giraffe. The giraffe said you need a tall neck that will make you pretty. Last, she asked elephant. The elephant said you need floppy ears now that will make you beautiful. Then she went home and she slept and Rico's comments made henrietta have nightmares she woke up and decided to be her self she said to her friends you can get your body. the End

Alligators and Crocodiles

By Khaled Al Basman 6A

Alligators and crocodiles are different reptiles. It's easy to confuse them; crocodiles prefer salty water like the ocean while alligators prefer fresh water from lakes and ponds. This is one difference between them.

Also, their noses are different. Crocodiles have a V-shaped nose while alligators have a U-shaped nose. Crocodiles look like they are smiling and alligators like they are looking for something to eat.

If you go to the zoo, just go behind the thick glass, and you can see the differences. However, be careful! They are not afraid to bite or attack.

Happiest Memory of My Life

By Abdulhadi Mohammed Grade 10

I still remember that day like it was yesterday. I went to the hospital at 11 in the morning and I saw my mom in the hospital bed. My baby sister was in her arms; the most beautiful baby I'd ever seen. I was so happy that I had a little sister. I remember her trying to walk, talk and smile. As the days went by she grew more and more always with a smile on her face. Every day I look forward to going home to hear that laugh she makes when she's happy. I have watched her grow into the cutest little 3 year old.

The day she was born was a key moment in my life. I'll never forget it. It was the happiest memory of my life.

Oceans

Oceans taste like salty water.
Oceans smell like stinky fishes.
Oceans sound like splashing waves.
Oceans look like colorful fishes and seaweed.
Oceans feel like relaxing and meditation.

CAREER FAIR

The Canadian Bilingual School will host its annual Career Fair on Thursday, December 7th. In our Secondary School, experts from within, and outside of, our community have been invited to share their wisdom, experience and expertise with our students. Having insight into the various professions and careers will enable our students to make more informed decisions regarding career choices and paths. On the same day, our Elementary School will host a “Dress for the Job You Want” Day. Students may take this opportunity to come dressed in job-related costumes. During class time, they will read about and discuss different professions. Please mark December 7th on your calendar.

BAKESALE

The student Council is organizing a Bake Sale for December 7th. An impressive variety of homemade cakes, cookies, and other sweets will be available for purchase during the lunch hours. To support our Student Council, please drop by our stall and feed your sweet tooth.
