CBS Fun day and Twin Day

The month of December brought two exciting events for the staff and students of CBS. The first was our annual Fun Day. This event is always heavily anticipated and this year was no exception. Students were able to try their luck and test their skills in a variety of games and activities including darts, soccer, ring toss, bouncing castle and bazooka to name a few. All that energy expended meant eating some of the delicious foods provided by a number of local merchants. All in all, Fun Day was once again a rousing success and certainly lived up to its name.

The second event was twin day. Teachers and students teamed up with a partner and came dressed alike. As you can see from the photos, some real creativity was displayed in their choice of costumes. Hats off to all those who participated!

WRITING MATTERS

While this editorial usually targets public writing, in this issue we are going to discuss writing of a different nature – personal writing. Personal or private writing may just be a to-do or shopping list but may also involve recalling an event, making a decision, solving a problem or reflecting on the day. This kind of writing is not usually shared with others and may or may not follow the rules of convention as determined by the writer him or herself. However, it is often cathartic as it may provide the writer with personal insights and/or inspiration.

While many people give little credence to maintaining a personal journal or diary, many famous people including Albert Einstein, Marie Curie, Leonardo Da Vinci, Winston Churchill and Mark Twain maintained a journal throughout their lifetime. In fact, Marie Curie was never without her journal. As a result, they became radioactive and must be kept under lock and key to this day.

Journals can provide you with a platform to collect ideas or reflect on a problem while trying to come up with plausible solutions. They can also be a great way to organize your life by setting and monitoring goals. According to stars like Jennifer Aniston and Emma Watson, they can also be very therapeutic and much less expensive.

While there are no rules around what is written, how much is written or how often entries are made, journal enthusiasts will tell you that it is important to carry a journal at all times. You just never know when the writing urge will strike. While some will say to keep the entries short, others will argue to write longer, more in depth entries. Some will advocate using inexpensive scribblers while others advocate using expensive notebooks to record your thinking. While you will hear or read many opinions regarding journaling, there is no right or wrong way to keep a journal. It is all about personal preference.

While the students at CBS are encouraged to maintain a personal journal, their entries will not appear in the Express because they are not for public sharing. However, the writing that appears in this month's edition does share personal opinions, attempts to solve problems and explores imaginative and creative thought. We hope that you enjoy this month's entries. Happy reading!!!

Dear mom and dad,

I want a new bike to ride to school.

First, I can Bike by myself to school.

For example, when there are no cars I can go with the bike and I will come early.

Second, riding a bike is a good Exercise.

For example, riding a bike is good for our body, my muscles will become stronger and when we ride the bike our legs will become fatter.

Most importantly, I will have fun.

For example, when I am bored I ride my bike, when I don't have a friend I can ride my bike.

Additionally, I will be responsible.

For example, I will not crash my bike and I will be careful.

In a conclusion, I want a new bike to ride to school because, I can bike by myself to school. Riding a bike is a good Exercise, I will have fun and I will be responsible.

I Promise I will not hit the girls, I will not Push in the Line, I will not say bad words, I will not talk with all Grade 12, I will Clean my class, I will not rip the paper and I will not Put all the Pencils in my desk.

Love,

Comparative Report: Kuwait vs. Egypt

Kuwait and Egypt are located in the Middle East on the African Continent. Kuwait as well as Egypt are hot. Kuwait and Egypt both have deserts.

Kuwait has a Sheikh, but Egypt has a Pharaoh. Kuwait is a small country; on the other hand Egypt is a bigger than Kuwait. Kuwait does not have Pyramids, but Egypt has Pyramids.

I like Egypt more, because it has a lot of wonders and it is very old, which means there are a lot of things to explore. Also Kuwait is not very interesting to explore, and it is kind of boring.

Comparative Report: Kuwait vs. Egypt

Kuwait as well as Egypt are hot countries. Egypt has deserts like Kuwait. Both countries speak Arabic.

Kuwait was a very poor country unlike Egypt which was very rich. Kuwait doesn't have pyramids, but Egypt has a lot of Pyramids. Egypt is very big, yet Kuwait is small.

In my opinion, I like Kuwait more than Egypt, because it's an interesting country.

THE LOST MONEY

One day there were two boys named Saad and Yousef. They went to the Avenues mall to shop at 4:00 PM. They also watched a movie at the theatre. When they finished the movie, a boy named Alex asked them to help him find his lost money. All the three boys ran after the thief to catch him. They followed him from the parking lot to the airport in Alex's car. Alex was a fast driver. Yousef and Saad were having fun. Saad called 112, the police from his iPhone and told the story to the police and asked him to meet them at the airport as soon as possible. The police arrived but lost track of the thief. After that Saad told the police, "I know where is the thief. Follow me!" Saad asked the police, "Do you see him, Sir?". The Policeman said, "Yes, I do!"

Finally, the three boys and the policeman surrounded the thief and caught him. Alex got his money back and went home.

Saad and Yousef felt proud to help a stranger find his LOST MONEY.

WINTER WONDERLAND

The leaves of the trees are falling
Christmas decorations calling
Warm clothes are crawling out of their closets
and our hands are in our pockets.

Running out of our houses
to enjoy the season of Winter
as we make snow angels and snowmen
showmen get icy powers

Hot chocolate everyday
while frosty snow is everywhere
looking out the window
I can smile from happiness
of this Winter Wonderland.

The flowers of Spring

Petals swimming down
Flowers blooming here and there
Soft petals everywhere.

Lovely Summer

People riding ice-cream trucks,
the road full of little ducks.
Barbecues in backyards
and cold drinks all over the floor.

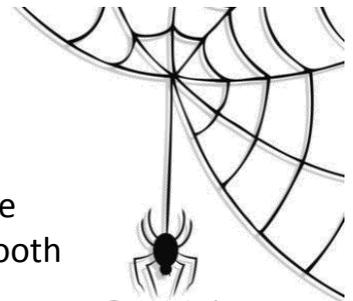

Floats and lifeguards all around
Wait! No school? Let's begin the fun.
People wearing swimming suits
and men wearing their fishing boots.

Kids love playing and diving,
but adults love watching and relaxing.
People sweating and drooling
with dogs running around and having fun.

Mondays

*Mondays are to me just so boring
This is the day where the sun is crying
It is the day where everything is falling
When robbers go to rob and when caught go for laying*

*School is like jail in a black world
It was raining so hard, it was a tsunami
The wether was -1 million Celsius frizzing cold
I had to were my coat case of nany comaxy*

*In Mondays we don't get freedom to play sports
Mondays mean having morons morning meal
My father always has to pick me up with his old ford
I fear to cheer the team seal wheel*

*I wish this day is removed from the calendar
This day just keeps going in a cycle of a cylindcr*

I HATE MONDAYS

I like to read a lot of comics
And I also like to play videogames
Also I wasn't born to be a cook
And don't forget that youssif is my name

I like to read about character that are kinda unknown
Because you can discover characters that you may like
And some that you may have never ever known
Like the marvel character the moon knight

My favorite game is breath of the wild
Also it won game of the year
God of war is not made for a child
And read dead redemption 2s ending can make you tear

Comics ,comics ,comics can make you flip 10 times Doom makes a boom , and thank you for your time, because that's the end of my rhyme

Othello

Act 1

“ Rodrigo is upset of Iago. He won't clear why he was upset in the beginning. (PART POINT - Rodrigo loves Desdemona.) ”

“ Rodrigo was rejected by Brabantio several times (for marriage). He is upset that he can't win the heart of Desdemona. ”

“ When Rodrigo found that Desdemona left the house at night with Othello he decided to wake her up. Rodrigo and Iago went to warn Othello that Brabantio found out. Turns out that Desdemona and Othello are Married. ”

“ Brabantio found out that his daughter is in love with Othello and he couldn't believe it. He thinks that it wouldn't happen unless Othello used something on her (Magic or Drugs). ”

“ Both of Iago and Rodrigo pretend that they are enemies in front of Othello. (Because he is Othello's trusted man and Rodrigo doesn't want to break Othello's trust.) ”

“ Brabantio found Othello and was about to start a fight. Othello refused to fight and insists that Brabantio should put down his sword. ”

“ The messenger of the Duke was sent to Othello to inform him that the Duke wanted to see about Rome, Turkey, and Cyprus. When Brabantio heard that Othello was going to see the Duke he decided to go with Othello. ”

“ Othello orders Iago to bring in Desdemona once Desdemona enters she was questioned by her father about her choice to marry and she stood by her husband's side. ”

“ The Duke requires Othello to get prepared for a battle against the Turks. Othello agrees and will leave his wife to be taken care of properly by the state. The Duke suggested that she can be taken care of by her father but Othello, Desdemona and Brabantio refused. Desdemona decided to stay with Othello (most trusted officer) as Iago. ”

Culture of Giving

The poet Ibn Al-Rumi said, "Generous is not he who gives his gift for praise, even if it is more precious, but generous is he who gives a gift for nothing but good approval."

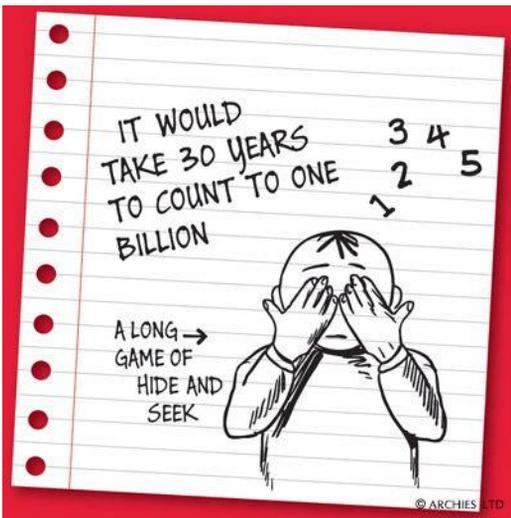

'Giving' is a wonderful word that carries amongst its letters, beautiful meanings that are only felt by those who love giving without compensation and granting without waiting for any consideration. To give is to love goodness, happiness and charity to others without expecting any materialistic returns. If you have a lot, give some of what you have and if you have a little, then share your feelings, love, devotion and sacrifice. The act of love and giving is a culture that we must teach to our children and students, to inspire them with a culture of sharing even if it is a simple thing. We may not have enough money to donate or to contribute to building a mosque or digging a well in a poor country, but our encouragement of others who have the money to donate is considered giving.

You do not have to be poor in order to feel the value of giving. It is also not necessary to be filthy rich to feel the value of giving. Giving is a high human value and a noble characteristic that brings true happiness to its owner without material returns or waiting for a reward or word of thanks. A good deed is a worship by which we draw closer to God. His love for good deeds and giving are known to us from our Messenger, Prophet Muhammed (peace be upon him). His generosity was neither exhaustive nor inexhaustible and did not hurt or harm the feeling. Perhaps his incident with Jabir bin Abdullah was one of the greatest examples of this. As they were returning from one of trips, the Messenger offered to buy Jabir's camel from him for four dinars. When he reached Madinah, the Messenger came to know about Jabir's marriage and, and then informed Bilal (one of his most trusted and loyal companions) to pay Jabir the price of the camel, give him extra money and to return his camel to him. These morals, which the Master of the Creation carries, make us keen on the love of giving and good deed for others and enjoying the reward of giving from God.

In conclusion, we remind you that all the good we do is a gift, so your loyalty in your work and your academic achievement are gifts for yourself and your country. Your gift to the needy is a gift, your love of good is a gift, your smile to others is a gift, your contribution to the renaissance of your nation is a gift and helping the needy is a gift. Let us donate without expecting return and establish the value of giving in the hearts of our children.
