Bringing Talent to Life

إدخال الموهبة في الحياة

At CBS, we provide an environment where children can develop their innate skills and discover more about themselves. Through the experience that we have gained over the years, we have formulated and developed a rigorous academic structure and programs to ensure the overall growth of our students. Along with academics, we also promote a safe, inspiring and supportive environment for our students. We always encourage an active participation from parents, teachers and community members.

The curriculum at CBS is the driving force behind all the initiatives and teaching strategies of its faculty. Students require consistent challenging programs that will capture their interest and stimulate creative thinking and problem solving abilities. They must also be able to build independent capabilities as well as a team spirit in order to be prepared for a lifetime of learning. Our students, in the process of learning, acquire knowledge and the skills required to excel when they enter the work environment.

The Mission Statement

At CBS we promote a respectful, safe and supportive environment, encouraging high expectations and academic success.

Core Beliefs

We believe in

1. Individual Accountability
2. Having a Positive Belief In People
3. Developing Critical Thinking

Chairman's message

إلى: طلابنا الأعزاء،

تعد المدرسة أول نقطة تواصل بيننا وبين العالم. إنها فترة من المرح والمنافسة السليمة والتوافق والمشاركة والحب. لن تقوم المدرسة بمساحاتها الواسعة أو فصولها الدراسية أو مكاتبها أو مختبراتها أو ملاعبها الكبيرة؛ وإنما أيضاً بقلوب الطلاب والموظفين التي تجعل المدرسة نابضة ومليئة بالحياة.

إن التعلم عملية لا تقتصر على المدارس والكلية؛ ولا ينتهي هذا التعلم بنهاية الحياة المهنية الأكاديمية.

إنها في الواقع عملية تستمر مدى الحياة وتتعمق من خلال القراءة. لذا فإنني أنصح كل واحد منكم بأن لا يتوقف أبداً عن القراءة. وكما قالت مارجريت فولر، "اليوم أنت قارئ، غدا أنت قائد". أمنيته لكم أن تصبحوا قادة المستقبل. إن الأشخاص الجيدين يعيشون من خلال قيمهم. إنهم صادقون وملتزمون بالصدق في الفكر والعمل. وها نحن في المدرسة الكندية ثنائية اللغة، نسعى جاهدين لتطوير القيم والإنجازات اللازمة لكي تصبحوا مواطنين مؤثرين وعلى دراية بالمستقبل.

ومع اقتراب العطلة الصيفية، أمل أن تستمتعوا بأوقاتكم مع العائلة والأصدقاء. ومع ذلك، يرجى تخصيص بعض الوقت يوميا للقراءة. اسمحوا لأنفسكم بالاستغراق في صفحات الكتب والقصص. إنني أتطلع إلى رؤيتكم مرة أخرى في شهر سبتمبر. أتمنى لخريجينا عام 2019 مستقبلاً رائعاً وبارك الله فيكم. مع خالص الشكر والتقدير،

السيد / حمد الحمد

To my Dear Students,

School is our first contact with the world. It is a period of joy, healthy competition, adjustments, sharing, and love. It is not only the wide-open spaces, classrooms, libraries, laboratories or the large fields that make the school; it is also the hearts of the students and staff that make an institution vibrant and full of life.

Learning is a process not limited to schools and colleges; nor does it end with the conclusion of one's academic career.

It is indeed a lifelong process that deepens through reading. I advise each of you to never stop reading. As Margret Fuller has said, "Today a reader, tomorrow a leader." My wish for you is to become leaders of tomorrow. People of fine character live by their values. They are honest and committed to truthfulness in both thought and act. At CBS, we strive to develop in you, the values and achievements necessary to become active and informed citizens of tomorrow.

As summer vacation nears, I hope you will enjoy your time with family and friends. However, please keep aside some time every day to read; allow yourself to get lost in the pages. I look forward to seeing you again in September. To our graduates of 2019, I wish you a great future and God bless.

Yours sincerely,

Mr. Hamad Al Hamad
Chairman

Managing Director's message

Greetings to the family of Canadian Bilingual School.

The academic year 2018-19 has been a remarkable year of learning and progress. We have made significant strides in improving reading and writing in English this year which is the main focus at Canadian Bilingual School. Reading is important so that children develop:

1. Word recognition skills
2. Effective word processing which improves higher level comprehension of passages - children learn to infer, make connections and ask relevant questions.
3. Word study enhances vocabulary, word level grammatical concepts, spelling and effective choice of words.

Parents, I hope that you have seen a definitive improvement in the reading and writing skills of your children over this year. Please schedule a visit with your child's classroom teacher to better understand the importance of reading and writing and how you can support your child at home.

There were a number of events which were tied in with the learning process, conducted with high standards thanks to the diligence of our teachers who inspire students to strive to be their best. We hope you had an opportunity to participate in some of these- the CBS Fun Day, International Day, National Day, the Art, Technology and Science Fairs besides the Spring Concert and Grade 12 graduation. Eleven students from high school attended the Model United Nations (MUN) hosted by UAS and 6 students received a special mention. It was a wonderful learning and networking experience for our students.

Our students are developing character traits of respect, self-regulation and organization which are essential skills for success in the global arena. The grade 12 students who are getting ready to leave our school environment and move to universities in and outside Kuwait, are well groomed for their futures. We wish them the very best.

As we go forward, I request that parents continue to support their children's learning at home during the summer holidays and once they return to school in September 2019. The learning environment is very demanding and the warm and understanding support of family makes the challenges of learning easier to achieve. While technology has proven to help the learning process, it is essential that children do not spend more than an hour of screen time daily. Reading books, an active lifestyle, healthy home-cooked meals and quality time with family ensure that your child has the right ingredients for the balance between their student life and home life.

We are proud of our students achievements. All of this is possible because of the consistent and dedicated efforts of the CBS teachers. A special thank you to them. Thank you also for the able leadership of our administrators who support the staff, parents and students with various needs.

May learning be a continuing quest and an enjoyable journey as you travel with us at the Canadian Bilingual School.

Yours Sincerely,

Mr. K.O. Mathew
Managing Director

High School Principal's message

I would like to take this opportunity to recognize and thank the high school staff for the wonderful job they have done to support all of the students this year.

A yearbook captures the memories of a school year, and this edition continues to reflect on many of the terrific events that took place this year. Your sons and daughters have participated in many events in and out of the classroom. These events include International Day, Fun Day, Arabic Language Day, Anti-Bullying Week, Math Fair, GUST Math Competition and Field Trips to support the learning and rich experiences of the students.

Our grade 12 graduation marks the end of a high school experience and journey for our graduating class. We wish all of our students continued success and learning as they enter the next phase of life, whatever that may be. We have students continuing their education in Kuwait as well as at universities elsewhere. No matter their location of study, the skills and growth mindset that our students have obtained here at the Canadian Bilingual School will serve them well in their future endeavors. Success comes from knowing that you did your best.

This yearbook reflects the many accomplishments, experiences and friendships students have made here at CBS this year. A special thank you to the Yearbook Committee for all of their hard work and commitment to this yearbook and giving our students the ability to look back on a wonderful school year.

Take care,

Mr. Paul Barwinski

High School Principal

2018 – 2019

Elementary Principal's message

It has been an honor to serve as your Elementary School Principal throughout the past 2 years. I am sure you will agree this year has been filled with many joyful moments. We have continued to spend time addressing our best CBS Character Traits, setting goals and reaching higher standards for all students in Kindergarten through Grade 5. We have led our school forward focusing on a growth mindset that sees a positive attitude, a lot of practice and failure as the first step in learning. F – first, A – attempt, I – in, L – learning.

Browsing this collection of photos, I see a village of people committed to exploring and encouraging our belief in individual accountability, having a positive belief in people and learning through critical thinking. This year we read more, we wrote more, and we learned more.

CBS continues to welcome students interested in learning English language skills through a high standard curriculum from Ontario, under the supportive direction of a Canadian trained leadership team and a kind and knowledgeable teaching staff. Our current students are enriched by the learning methods and opportunities presented each day.

Schools work best when parents play an active role in their child's education and development. The parents I have met and worked with over the past 2 years are passionate about their child's learning and are committed to their success. Thank you for your ongoing support and participation in the education of your child and CBS school events.

Congratulations to our students for completing a very rewarding and successful year. I will look back on our time together with fond memories. Keep smiling and believing in yourself and your abilities. Dreams in life can be achieved with a strong effort, a positive attitude and the believe that you can do it. Good luck in the years to come; keep learning to care, caring to learn and growing next year.

Memoir

There was once a day that nearly ruined my whole life. It was a 6th grade morning and I had just finished breakfast and was getting ready for school. I jumped on the sofa to put on my socks and wait for my brothers to get ready. The car ride felt like an eternity with all the left turns and right turns and the roundabouts. I nearly got sick! When I entered the class, I was surprised that all my friends from last year were in the class with me. Oh, and did I mention that it was the first day of 6th grade?

It was a very tiring day with all the new studies and subjects. As soon as I came back home I had lunch, finished my homework and took a nap. I suddenly woke up with tons of energy that I needed to waste but it was 11 p.m. and everyone was asleep. As I was thinking on something to do, an idea crossed my mind. I should go watch the television downstairs.

As my feet reached the ground, I felt a tsunami of pain on my ankle. At first, I thought it was nothing but suddenly it felt like a spike going in and out of my ankle. I dropped to the ground in pain. I was screaming hoping that one of my parents or brothers would wake up. I heard footsteps jolting in the direction of my room. Thankfully it was my big brother. I felt saved, yet the pain remained. I explained what happened and he informed my dad.

My dad took me to the hospital. The doctor seemed hesitant to tell me the problem. I asked him out of fear, "Will I ever walk again?" He nodded with a grin on his face. It turned out I had torn my Achilles tendon and it was the biggest relief of my -11 year-old life. Over the days I had medication and muscle tests. Each year my ankle got better until it finally fully healed. From that day on I have never jumped out of bed. It truly was the biggest mistake of my life.

Little Red Riding Hood – A Loose Retelling

I knew that my sweet, darling Riding Hood would come so I cleaned my tiny house until I got tired. I laid on my bed and out my window I watched Riding Hood getting distracted by parrots. Suddenly, I saw that sneaky wolf talking to her. I am sure he was asking where she was going. He was guessing that she would come to my house. He raced away as I closed my blinds and put my blanket over me. I hoped Riding Hood would come before the wolf. I heard footsteps and a second later, the wolf barged into my house and ate me. ME!

Finally, I heard Riding Hood come into the house and ask multiple questions. "Grandma why do you have such big ears?"

The wolf answered, "So I can hear you better."

"Why do you have such big eyes?" With a high-pitched voice the wolf said, "So I can see you better!"

I was so worried about Riding Hood that I tried kicking to get out of his tummy, but he didn't even budge. Riding Hood asked one more question. "Why are your teeth so sharp?"

After a long pause the wolf answered with a deep voice, "SO I CAN EAT YOU!!!"

My darling Riding Hood screamed for help. Suddenly I heard anther voice say, "Unhand that little girl." The next thing I knew, I popped out of the wolf's tummy. The wood cutter hauled the wolf away and I hugged Riding Hood. Then I took a bath and ate the goodies she brought, and we lived happily ever after.

SHIP TRAP ISLAND DISCOVERED MANHUNTING MAN

January 27, 2018

Renowned hunter Saner Rainsford desperately battles for life against psychopathic killer in an uncharted Caribbean Island.

World famous hunter Sanger Rainsford was recently found in distress and shock in a port in Miami Florida with cut wounds and torn clothes, having signs of long and weary travel on his face. He claims to have been stranded on an uncharted Caribbean Island for two weeks after planning to hunt cougars in the Brazilian Amazon. After seeking refuge and deemed mentally fit by authorities, Sanger insisted on being interviewed for a live broadcast. The interview went as follows:

"Mr. Rainsford, your reputation as a renowned and unrelenting expert hunter goes before you. Tell us about your philosophy in life as well as a hunter."

Mr. Rainsford said, "Well I once believed that hunting is the greatest sport, exceeding any other in intensity and true pleasure. I believed that the prey understood, knew and felt nothing so the justification for sport hunting was viable. After all, animals don't feel anything but their feeling of being at bay for they just fought out of instinct.

"What is this mysterious island and its inhabitants you claim to have seen?"

Mr. Rainsford later remarked, "This is an island that stood deep in the Caribbean Sea as far as I knew. It is surrounded with deep and dense green jungles with hills and rivers stretching across on all directions. Many stories surround this island and many call it Ship-Trap Island. I've heard sailors mention stories of cannibalism and missing ships going across it. Many people report hearing screams and unknown sounds that sent terrifying chills down the bravest spines. As far as the inhabitants are concerned a cassock maniac who is the devil's right-hand man himself, a hunter with an insatiable appetite for human blood through sport lived there. He was truly a force to be reckoned with. He lived in a luxurious medieval mansion that he claims to have built, preserving human civilization is how he put it. He lived with his beast of a butler called Ivan and together they terrorized any stranded man. His name is General Zaroff.

"Walk us through the start of your journey. What was it like?"

Mr. Rainsford replied, "I was planning to hunt cougars with my friend Whitney down in the Brazilian Amazon. I managed to slip out of the yacht & fall into the warm sea. I began swimming towards gun shots that I heard coming in the direction of the island and began climbing a cliff. I think I slept right after finishing my climb. Then I started following the shore as I stumbled across an unknown carcass that seemed neither human or prey. I found a trail that took me to a seemingly never-ending castle with extremely tall towers. I knocked on the door and this giant I mentioned named Ivan opened the door while pointing a revolver and I surprisingly was greeted by his master General Zaroff who knew me as he had read every book in three languages. We are talking about a truly, intelligent mad man here," Mr. Rainsford said when describing the serial killer.

"Do you have a clear image of the man? His way of thinking and justification to such a crime? Rainsford replied saying, "Well Zaroff was a lanky and slim man of fair stature, black hair, black moustache and an unpleasant look. He saw the world as the true survival of the fittest. The world is ruled by the strong is how he sees this world. He justified his killing by murdering those he deemed scum of the earth and unworthy to live. He takes great pleasure in competition and intensity; he yearns for pain and a fair fight in his hunt. He willingly makes the odds against him as he wishes to be met with a struggle. He does this out of boredom, boredom and killing easily for pleasure. He is a true devil in disguise; that's his justification.

Emilia and Randy

Once upon a time a dragon named Randy was captured by the soldiers of King Richard the Third. Everyone thought Randy was an evil dragon, but he was just misunderstood. The daughter of the King, whose name was Emilia would sneak out and fly with Randy every day after lunch.

One day when Randy and Emilia were flying King Richard saw them fly. The King was very worried because he thought Randy was evil and was going to burn Emilia. He sent his soldiers to make Emilia's favourite cookie. The cookie was a normal chocolate chip cookie, but the milk had sleeping powder in it. When Randy drank the milk, he would sleep until Emilia's reign was over. Emilia would not be hurt by Randy.

However, Emilia was a smart little girl. She knew that Randy was a nice dragon because when he hatched out of his egg he did not blow fire or do anything evil. He was a scared little dragon. So, Emilia gave him her special teddy bear to keep him safe. The teddy bear was given to her by the wizard as it had a special spell on it to keep her safe. The spell would keep Emilia safe from any danger and would now protect Randy.

Meanwhile Randy ate the cookie and drank the milk. The sleeping powder began to enter his skin but before it could reach his muscles, the teddy bear absorbed the powder. When Randy woke up, he ate the rest of the cookie.

Emilia talked her father into stepping down because he was very old, and Emilia took over her father's crown. She made Randy her pet dragon and they lived happily ever after.

On My Honor

Have you ever heard of the book On My Honor? On My Honor is a fictional novel written by Marion Dane Bauer who lives in Minnesota. We read this book as part of a class assignment. The first thing I noticed was how short the novel was, but it seemed interesting because on the book cover, there are two boys riding green and red bikes in front of a river.

The main characters of the story are Tony, Joel and Bobby. Tony and Joel are twelve years old and are best friends. Tony is a daredevil and doesn't seem to care about his relationships. Joel is smart and has a fine relationship with both Joel and Bobby. Bobby is Joel's baby brother. He is a whiner, but he has a good relationship with his older brother.

The plot of the story is that Joel and Tony are best friends. Tony wants to go climb Starved Rock, but they needed permission from someone so both ask Joel's father. He lets them go but he tells Joel that he is on his honor not to go anywhere but the bluffs. On the ride to Starved Rock Tony stops in front of the Vermillon River. Tony had another idea to swim in the river. Tony and Joel race to the sandbar. Joel turns to celebrate his victory and realizes that Tony can't swim.

There are many themes in the story including depression, sadness, friendship and loss but guilt is the most important one. The meaning behind the title is someone who breaks his dad's promise which explains Joel's feelings, but Joel and his parents must also live through their guilt over Tony's death and the more guilt people are feeling, the more interesting it becomes.

Also, the genre of this book if you have not already guessed is drama. If people like dramatic books go for this one but there is too much drama for my liking. In addition, I would rate this book 3/5 because of the drama. In conclusion, if you have nothing to do, then read this novel.

The King and The Witch

Once upon a time there was a king in his castle and an evil witch burned the king's castle. Next, the witch went away. Then the king couldn't catch her. After that the king thought of a plan to lure the witch to him so that he can kill her. Later the king went to another castle to visit his friend. There he saw the witch. The king went behind the witch. She looked behind and ran away. The king chased the witch behind the tree, but she chanted some magic words and turned herself into a tree. However, the king recognized her. He brought an axe and chopped off the tree. Finally, the king was safe in the castle and the people were happy.

The Two Princesses

Once upon a time there was a princess called Madelin who was selfish and greedy. She loved make-up very much. One day she saw a poor girl named Maddie, begging on the street. She threw a quarter into the can so hard that all the coins jumped up high, and Madelin took them and walked away laughing. "Why am I poor?" Maddie whispered sadly, after Madelin had taken her money and bought make-up.

When Princess Madelin's father, King Matt saw the poor girl he took her to the castle and adopted her. Madelin arrived and saw Princess Maddie. "Dad! A poor stranger in here, with us?!" she cried.

"It's okay, she is your new sister," he replied.

"NO! NO! NO! NO!!!" shouted Madelin. Just then, a wizard appeared in front of them, "Madelin, you have one wish, what would you like?"

"I wish that everything I touch would turn into make-up." She replied with an evil grin. After that she touched Princess Maddie – Maddie disappeared and lipsticks, eye liner and eye shadow dropped to the floor. "Ha, Ha!" laughed Madelin. Madelin took her make-up, but every time she touched it, the make-up multiplied. Princess Madelin was annoyed, she kept trying to get the make-up and it kept multiplying. "Ugggh" she groaned.

The wizard appeared in front of her again, "Will you be nice from now on?" he asked. "Yes, just let me touch my make-up again!" she cried. The wizard reversed the spell.

Maddie was back and there was no make-up mess. Princess Madelin apologized to Princess Maddie, and Maddie and Madelin became true sisters. They helped every poor person in the country and lived happily ever after.

The moral: Don't be greedy but be happy and content with what you have.

Analytical Essay

An outstanding movie that I've seen which was, in fact, based on a true story is called "Pursuit of Happiness". I truly feel this movie did a marvelous job in portraying the struggle that Chris Gardner had to endure during a certain time in his life. The reason why I feel this way is because the movie was a re-enactment of what happened to the real Chris Gardner. It provides the audience with a clear visual of everything that he had to endure instead reading it in a book and imagining the situations or listening to it as a story someone else is telling. In addition, this movie contained numerous lessons and strong messages including overcoming hardships, the commitment to family and the power of resilience that audiences can benefit from.

This movie reveals the struggles and hardships of a father played by Will Smith. Initially he had invested heavily in a device known as a «bone density scanner». He had a strong belief in the product which made him eager to pursue this business. He felt like he could make a really good living selling these devices. However, they did not sell well even though they were slightly better than x-rays which were more expensive. Gardner's lack of success with selling bone density scanners created a chain of unfortunate events. First his wife leaves him, he loses his apartment and must live in shelters with his son. Forced to live in the streets, Gardner continued to sell bone density scanners while concurrently taking on an unpaid internship as a stockbroker. However, before he can receive pay, he needs to outshine the competition through 6 months of training, although, in addition, he continues to sell his devices to stay afloat. Even though Chris had a slim chance of success, he refused to give in to despair as he struggled to create a better life for himself and his son.

Another reason why this movie is truly astonishing is because the actor playing Chris had his eight-year old son, Jaden, play his son in the movie. The father and son relationship demonstrated in the movie was more meaningful because of the real family connection which made the acting seem very realistic as true happiness and true sadness were impressively demonstrated by the two actors. Whenever there was a sad or heart-breaking scene, Jaden Smith would cry and this made his father's reaction more realistic because he actually felt heartbroken whenever his son did this and his emotions were easily expressed and shown on camera. The actors' impressive acting helped by giving the audience a better sense of how the real Chris Gardner and his son felt throughout their entire journey and showed the commitment to family that Chris had.

Furthermore, this movie contains a lot of significance because of the resilience of Chris Gardner. A large number of people can relate to all of Chris Gardner's hardships such as, homelessness, unemployment, business failure, no family support and separation of spouse. Many people have experienced these hardships and often tend to give up. This results in a sense of hopelessness. However, Chris Gardner does the opposite. He continually works to provide a better life for himself and his son. He seems to find the will power to fight through every defeat.

While many lessons can be learned from this film, the one that stood out for me personally was that in order to succeed, you need to have will power, dedication and a strong work ethic. In the movie, Chris Gardner had to face a huge financial loss, the loss of his wife and the loss of his home. He's forced to live in shelters with his 5 year-old son whenever there is room, and he had to work harder than anyone in the stock brokerage firm in order to be hired as an official stock broker and actually receive a salary. Despite all odds and the many hardships he had to endure, in the end, he passed the final stock broker exam and got the job. This teaches the audience that even if you feel like you are failing, or the world is working against you, if you are dedicated enough and work hard for your future, you will succeed. Moreover, what made the movie extra special was that, in the ending scene of the movie, the real Chris Gardner appears as a cameo and walks past the actors playing him and his son as they were still acting out the ending scene.

In conclusion, "The Pursuit of Happiness" is a remarkable movie that portrays the struggle of Chris Gardner, a single father, who tries to make a living to support his son and create a better life for both of them. In sharing his journey, the audience feels his pain and his highs and lows as he battles the numerous obstacles that he faces. This is made more powerful by the outstanding performances of the father and son acting team. His strong belief in his ability to overcome the many failures that come his way shows his tenacity and positivity. His sense of responsibility to his son is another powerful motivator. His unwillingness to give in provides a spark of hope for others. His story demonstrates that there is a light at the end of every dark tunnel.

CLOWN

One night, a young girl from a poor family looked after the kids of a rich family. The rich family had a very big house with a lot of rooms. It was filled with lots of important stuff from all over the world. as the parents are leaving the house to go out to town, the father told the girl when she sends the kids to go to bed that she must go down to another room. Far from where all the important stuff was and watch TV there, and not go wandering around the house.

Once the kids were sleeping, the girl went to the far room to watch TV. She was so scared she could not even watch TV. In the room she heard noises and saw a clown picture. She put a blanket over the clown's face so she could not see it anymore. She was scared of clowns. She took the blanket off because the feet of the clown sticking out under the blanket still scared her. She decided that she had to call the father and ask him if she could watch TV in another room because she was so scare over the clown.

The father then told the girl that they do not have a picture of a clown in their house. He said that his kids always told him about a clown that goes into his house and rooms every night. They always told the children they were lying. She must get the kids out of the house now and call someone to protect them. She ran up to the kids' room and tried to find a knife or a gun. She wanted to shoot the clown or the person wearing the clown mask if he tried to fight her.

She got into the kids' bedroom and tried to phone the police or her parents from the phone in their bedroom. The phone just kept on ringing and ringing. It made a beeeep sound every time she wanted to call someone. The kids started screaming for help and then they just kept quiet and looked like zombies. The girl put the phone down. She saw the blanket on the floor. Just the blanket. She screamed for the kids to come to her, but they didn't. She heard footsteps on the stairs. She was very scared. She knew it was the clown. She tried to run but the clown caught her. She was never heard from again.

JOHNCARMAC'S TRAGEDY FINALLY REVEALED

A STUDENT JUST SOLVED THE CASE?

One of many court cases held back by many unanswered questions. This case was very complex and frightening too.

A student named John Carmac on campus studying medicine with no provocation was beaten to death in the bathroom. The case was help back in court for almost two years straight with no indication of who showed him the opposite of mercy. It was on the second of March of this year that a student named Samuel Riggs spilled the dark secret of this frightening campus crime on the streets of New York. The evidence was so profound and organized that it was actually convincing. The story was blood-boiling.

The body-shivering tragedy of John was revealed to the public. A guy named Joe, who was also a student on campus beat John with a pipe in the bathroom.

John was broken in pieces – broken bones and skull, blood lurking in the shadows of that dark night. Guts were everywhere; it was a blood bath. The parents were informed and the student was held in court for further information.

Joe was sentenced to life in prison, but his lawyer was arguing against that sentence. The lawyer proved him innocent but was that really the truth?

Students came forward with new evidence saying that Joe was part of the killing but not the main killer. Joe wasn't even shedding a tear. It seemed that he was a source of corruption killer. Joe was involved in the participation of killing Carmac. This proof was valid and convincing to the judge. But the judge feared the man. Yes, he was a killer, but he could create a bigger problem involving him and his family. The lawyers were paid to lie. Joe's father owned a cartel in Mexico which made him rich. He had many gangs that the police feared themselves.

Joe was officially proven innocent. The parents were devastated, they couldn't comprehend what was happening. The unfairness was so real at that moment. The system revealed itself to be unjust and corrupt.

Such a great tragedy and such a terrible world where injustice decimates justice in every way, not for the pleasure of the people and the just laws and rules but for the money and greed that the country sheds.

Such a sad reality, but the saddest part, is that it is true
