The most awaited event of the year, CBS FUNDAY, was held on Saturday, Dec 1st. The event was a celebration of the hard work done by a committee of staff and students. "This is a day for all out fun," said many of our attendees. Students and staff participated in activities from Ring Toss, Cookie & Cupcake decorating, Bouncy Castles, Henna & Face painting, Balloon splash, Archery, Arts and Crafts, and many more. There was wide variety of restaurants for students and parents to grab a snack or satisfy a sweet tooth. All in all a great day was had by all who attended.

EDITOR'S Note

WRITING MATTERS

At CBS student writers are engaged in several instructional practices. Formative writing activities involve teachers and peers providing feedback and support to help all writers improve on many levels. Engaging in formative writing tasks provides students with practice opportunities before completing a final assessment.

Summative writing occurs at the end of the unit. With this writing a student must work independently using the skills and knowledge learned throughout the unit of study. The writing skills and strategies required to write a summative task should be familiar to the student and many helpful hints are posted throughout the classroom for support. Feedback with this writing is given after the assignment has been graded by the teacher. This feedback is used by the student and teacher to set both individual and class goals for the next writing task.

The third practice is On-Demand writing. This writing requires students to use all the strategies, skills and knowledge they have acquired over time to complete a task that addresses grade-specific curriculum expectations. At CBS we do On-Demand writing at the beginning, middle and end of year. It enables us to see what our students know and can do along with what skills require more instruction and study.

Most writing published in the CBS Express is summative writing with samples of On-Demand writing depending on time of year. We hope that you enjoy reading this month's submissions. Happy reading!
